

Philip G Laird

Vice President, Innovation, Global and Academic Partnerships at Trinity Western University

Philip G Laird is the Vice President of Innovation, Global and Academic Partnerships at Trinity Western University.

EDUCATION

B.A. in Psychology (British Columbia)

M.A. in Social/Developmental Psychology (Simon Fraser); Ph.D. Psychology (Simon Fraser)

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

"Integrated Solutions to E-learning Implementation: Models, Structures, and Practices at Trinity Western University" (Online Journal of Distance Education Administration)

20 years of University experience, a history of academic leadership, championing university goals and initiatives, and developing new programs that increase local, national, and international enrollment...an expert knowledge of university operations and senior leadership from experience as a faculty member with a proven record of excellence in teaching and academic impact serving on a variety of taskforces and committees from the Global Education Taskforce, Online Taskforce, TWU Richmond Advisory Board to the Faculty Association Executive, to my current role as Vice Provost, managing non traditional, online, international and adult programs. Recognized skill in public speaking, teaching, organizational restructuring, program development, new campus and new initiative development, change management, building strategic alliances, working cross-culturally, championing collegial cooperation, and providing visionary leadership for educational entrepreneurial activities.